NYIT Art Exhibit Winners

Two South High School students took top awards at a recent art exhibit sponsored by the New York Institute of Technology (NYIT) School of Architecture and Design. Jiajing (Jessica) Liao, an eleventh-grader, and Alison Tair, a senior, took First and Second Places, respectively, in Long Island's Finest Competition for emerging high school design talent. Both are advanced placement photography students of Lisa Stancati. The theme of the Competition was "The Inside." It included depictions, abstract or real, of the "inside" of any object, space, or construction. Winners were chosen by a jury of faculty and practitioners affiliated with NYIT. Over 60 pieces of work were on display for the exhibit that was held in early December.
